

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

When drilling a multi layered sheet-like material, drilling is first made with pulses having energy that generates an inter-layer pull-off force smaller than the adhesion force between the layers. Then pulses with higher energy are radiated for trimming the shape of the holes, and thus through-holes having a desired shape are drilled without causing delamination of the layers.

10

09881769-061801
T08190-6978860